

Citizens for Better Judges (CBJ) has completed its interview and endorsement process for judicial candidates in the contested elections for seats on the Jefferson District and Circuit Courts, as well as the Kentucky Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court of Kentucky. After a lengthy and rigorous evaluation of the candidates' qualifications for election to the bench, CBJ endorsed the following candidates as the most qualified in the courts indicated:

Jefferson District Court, Division 1 – Anthony Jones

Jefferson District Court, Division 3 – [No Endorsement*]

Jefferson District Court, Division 4 – Yvette De La Guardia

Jefferson District Court, Division 6 – Justin C. Brown

Jefferson District Court, Division 7 – [No Endorsement*]

Jefferson District Court, Division 8 – Karen Faulkner

Jefferson District Court, Division 9 – Tanisha Ann Hickerson

Jefferson District Court, Division 10 – [No Endorsement*]

Jefferson District Court, Division 15 – Mary Jude Wolford

**** * * * * *

Jefferson Circuit Court, Division 4 – Ebert Haegele

Jefferson Circuit Court, Division 5 – Mary M. Shaw

Jefferson Circuit Court, Division 7 – [No Endorsement*]

Jefferson Circuit Court, Division 9 – Sarah Clay

Jefferson Circuit Court, Division 10 – Dorislee Gilbert

**** * * * * *

Supreme Court of Kentucky – Angela McCormick Bisig

Kentucky Court of Appeals, District 4, Div. 1 – [No Endorsement*]

Kentucky Court of Appeals, District 4, Div. 2 – [No Endorsement*]

**** * * * * *

*None of the judicial candidates seeking election to this particular court met the high standards required for endorsement by Citizens for Better Judges (CBJ).